

Dear Birthmother:

Before we even attempt to introduce ourselves to you, let us first say that we are so grateful for you. Thank you for choosing life and being the hero in all of this. Although we do not know you or your story, we are so thankful for your selfless decision to consider adoption. Please know that we are praying for you and trusting that God is in control.

We are David and Meghan, the proud parents of our 9 year old son, Brady and 7 year old daughter, Ella. Brady is so excited to be a big brother again. He loves babies and is always so good with friend's kids and his new baby cousins. Ella is excited about being a big sister. She is such a good helper and loves to take care of her brother and friends, and cannot wait to help take care of the new baby.

We live in a small town with a close group of friends and a strong church family. We love our community and feel very lucky that we are able to raise our children here. David is the Pastor at our church and Meghan is a teacher's aid in our elementary school. David has a flexible schedule as a pastor which allows him to be active in the kid's school and extracurricular activities. Meghan's current work schedule allows her to see the kids each day and be a part of their lives at school, but she is looking forward to staying home with the new baby.

Both sides of our family are very excited about us adopting a baby. Our family has already been blessed by adoption, David's brother and his wife have two adopted daughters of their own. We have seen firsthand the blessing of adoption in our family and extended family which has encouraged us in our adoption journey. After having a miscarriage and struggling with infertility, God blessed us with Brady and Ella. We have always felt that our family is not complete but, after years of trying without success and seeing our sweet nieces join our family we felt our hearts being called to adopt.

We, David and Meghan, met in college in a bible study through our church. We have been married 16 years this past December. We were married for 6 1/2 years before becoming parents. During those 6 1/2 years we learned a lot about each other which has helped us in our marriage. David has always led our family well. He provides, protects, and loves us beyond measure. He is the Godly man that I, Meghan had always wanted as a husband and father for my children. I cannot imagine my life without him, and I definitely could have never walked this life without him. God knew exactly who I needed as a mate in this life. Meghan is the exact wife that God knew I, David has always wanted and needed. She is kind, sweet-spirited, passionate, the caretaker of our home and family, amazing mother to our two kids, loves Jesus, and just so happens to be my best friend. She is a daily reminder of God's grace in my life, and I can't imagine life without her. We believe that God has the perfect family for your baby and the perfect baby and birthmother for our family. We trust that His timing is best and that He is already working things for our good and His glory.

Thank you so much for taking the time to read our letter and learning a little about our family. We will continue to pray as you seek God's direction and peace in this difficult decision, trusting that God is in control in all things.
